General Hsiang, Shanghai Protests on Purchase Italian Vessels

PEKING, Sunday, Sept. 5.—General Lu Yun Hsiang, military commissioner of Shanghai, has protested to the Peking government, against the sale by two Italian warships in the Hunan River, contiguous to Shanghai, of arms and ammunition to persons without authorization of the Shanghai military administration, according to an Asiatic news agency dispatch from Shanghai.

The venacular press of Shanghai protested vigorously against the sales, according to the dispatch, commenting that during the recent civil war around Peking, Italian sold arms to General Tuan Chi Jui's forces. These papers also charge that the Italian vessels were seeking to carry on this traffic with "fallen" and other doubtful persons for supplies and other material to the Chinese nation and people.

Miner Killed in Clash, Alabama

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Sept. 6.—Sam Lynn, non-union miner, was killed and several others were injured in a clash growing out of the coal strike at Guntown, Jefferson county, last night.

The death of Lynn is the second fatality since labor trouble started in the Alabama coal fields.

Make Report on Marine Escape

OAKLAND, Sept. 6.—Detailed reports of the capture last night near Cordella by a detachment of twenty-five marines of six escaped prisoners of the Mare Island naval prison, are being made to Secretaries of the Navy Josephus Daniels and Commandant E. L. Beach today. The prisoners were brought here last night in chains.

Private Albert Sussman, United States marine, who calmly walked through the youthful escapees in the face of a rifle fire and who was shot through the hand and chest in rescuing the marines, is being treated in the hospital.

Heating that the prisoners, who fled from the island after overpowered the guard and soldiers rifled and a gasoline launch were near Cordella, Captain Beach dispatched twenty-five marines in trucks to that place. The marines came upon the six youths in a residential and charged on them, firing over their heads. Three of the prisoners returned the fire and had to be overpowered. The other three threw down their arms and surrendered.

The capture last night ended an all-day search, which began at 4 a. m. yesterday when one of the guards was relieved by the prisoners and returned to the island to turn in the alarm. Seventy-five soldiers were scouring the country for the prisoners at the time they were taken. Captain Glenn E. Hayes, who was in charge of the pursuing party.

EXPERIMENT ON OYSTER GROWING

Plan Hatcheries for Propagation of Young

WEST SAYVILLE, N. Y., Sept. 6.—Preparation of young oysters all ready to "set out" guaranteed to multiply with proper care into a flourishing brood, may result from experiments just concluded by W. L. Wells, of the New York Conservation Commission, who today reported on his extensive study of oyster breeding.

Mr. Wells, at his laboratory on the shore of the Great South Bay, has succeeded in keeping "off" millions of young oysters from the larva to the "set" stage. In his report he said that hatcheries modeled after his plan can be built where the oysters may be incubated until they are set out in deep waters.

The method of developing oyster "sets" from oyster seed, or spawns, removed one of the chief obstacles in the commercial propagation of oysters, Mr. Wells said.

The seeds are incubated in a special tank from the time they are laid by the oyster until they are mature enough to attach themselves to the surface. In this tank, the experiments have had the greatest difficulty in developing a practical commercial method of keeping the tiny shellfish supplied with a fresh supply of salt water and food without washing them all during the day.

When the oysters reach the set stage, they can safely be put in the beds to tend for themselves. After that time the oyster grows very rapidly for a period of some weeks and gains full maturity within three or four years.

One of the chief obstacles, that of handling the larvae, or tiny eggs, while changing their water, the report says, was overcome by the use of a centrifugal machine, which concentrates the eggs in a small receptacle. The hatching apparatus was made of a series of large inverted glass carboys, fitted with tubes which permitted a fresh supply of salt water and air to percolate so gradually that the development of the eggs was not retarded. Microscopic examination is necessary in following the gradual development of the eggs to the "set" stage.

HOUSE SHORTAGE RIO DE JANEIRO

RIO DE JANEIRO, Sept. 6.—Much federal and municipal government are about to take action to relieve the shortage of houses here.

In the Chamber of Deputies a bill has been introduced providing for a special fund to be used for the construction of houses for working families. In the Municipal Council a measure was presented providing that all workers' houses built in the next two years be free from the usual municipal taxes.

The federal bill proposes the construction, under the municipal administration, of 20,000 houses in various districts of the capital wherever municipal or municipally owned property is available. It is intended that the houses shall be sold to heads of working families, payment being spread over a period of twenty years. In addition, the bill provides for the construction of two huge apartment houses, for families and for workers, respectively, with communal kitchens and other communal installations, the rent being placed at a very low figure.

POSTPONE OPENING CABLE CONFERENCE

Disposal of Island of Yap One of Serious Problems

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—Request has been made by France for postponement of the opening of the international communications conference called to meet in Washington September 15, until October 1. The French request, based on the inability of that government's delegates to reach the United States by the earlier date, probably will be granted, state department officials said today.

Great Britain, Italy, Japan, France and the United States will be represented at the conference, which is expected to consider matters of far-reaching diplomatic and commercial import.

Government Employees In Loan Clutches

RIO DE JANEIRO, Aug. 5.—(By Mail)—That money lenders have apparently gained a great hold on a large number of government employees is indicated by the introduction in the federal Chamber of Deputies of a bill authorizing a special loan of about $25,000,000, part of which is to be devoted to liquidating such debts. The bill provides that the treasury shall reimburse itself for the payment of these debts by deducting the amount from the employees' wages in 6 percent annually on the balance outstanding.

Government Employees In Loan Clutches

Part of the special loan, the bill provides, would be used to reimburse government employees for the amounts taken from their salaries by the special tax during the war period.

REFUGEES FINDING FOOD IN HOLLAND

OLDENZAAL, Netherlands, Aug. 30.—(By Mail)—Students of the food situation in central Europe have a good opportunity to observe the effects of a long continued sparse diet at this place, which is the first station on Holland soil after leaving German territory on the main route from Berlin to Amsterdam.

Here the Germans have the first opportunity to recoup themselves for lost calories. Fifteen minutes ride to the east the fare is meager; here it is plentiful and sustaining and the big station restaurant is daily jammed with hungry clamorous crowds whose capacity for solid trencher work is amazing.

Mountain white bread sandwiches melt away like snow and from a score of points cries arise for glasses of fresh milk—an unobtainable luxury in Germany. The meal here only serves as a preliminary snack for an ever more plentiful feast aboard the train.

As the Associated Press correspondent was watching the operations, a German theatrical company with a contract to fill in Holland was making a vigorous frontal attack on the luncheon counter. The profession in Germany is in a bad way; salaries are low and living is correspondingly precarious. Competition for joining touring companies in Holland is keen.

Their delight in facing a square meal was pathetic. One holding aloft a ham sandwich of generous proportions, declared: "Beautiful, beautiful Holland! Here the ham in this sandwich is draped in luxurious festoons, far surpassing in beauty and fragrance the roses in the garden of Semiramis!"

One woman sat with folded hands in a state of contemplation of a chunk of fresh butter the size of a peach. "This is truly a paradise," she gasped.

GET DATA UPON WATER SUPPLY

Engineering Department Is Investigating Tular Resources

LINDSAY, Sept. 6.—The investigations of the water resources of Tular county, which are being made by the State Department of Engineering, with funds lately provided by Tular county and the state, are now well under way. The area has been divided into two parts. The portion of the county dependent on the Kaweah river is being handled by J. H. Russell, whose office is with the Farm Advisor at Visalia. The southern part of the county, including the areas dependent on the Tule river and the San Joaquin river, is being handled by Chester MacLure, with offices at 529 Roche avenue, Porterville. The work as a whole is under the supervision of S. T. Harding, acting for W. H. McClure, the state engineer. Mr. Harding also has charge of the similar work under way in Kern county. The complete development of the water resources of the county will require utilization of both surface and underground water. The runoff from the surface streams has been measured for a period of years and is fairly well determined. The utilization of this runoff by ground water storage and storage in reservoirs is a more recent development and a practice which is being rapidly extended. It is essential that the extent and distribution of such ground water storage be known if this development is to continue. The work now under way is being directed largely toward a study of the effect of such ground water storage in raising the ground water and of pumping from the wells in lowering it. The Kaweah river, which has been collected by the parties to the recent litigation on this stream, has been the subject of investigation. The area to be covered has been extended beyond that in which the parties to the litigation were interested in order to study more fully the conditions in the entire river valley for the delta area. On the other streams of the county, less data is available and it has been necessary to select wells on which observations can be made. The ground water is in different portions of the area, particularly near the upper lands on which pumping is practiced, are less close to the surface than those on the lower lands. A study of the water conditions in these areas is being made. Although the conditions for measurement of underground supplies are necessarily much more difficult and expensive than for surface streams, fairly dependable results can be secured by comparing the inflow to the draft by pumping and the change in ground water levels for a given period of time. The longer the period over which such observations extend the more dependable are the conclusions. From such investigations conclusions can be reached as to the extent and character of development which will most fully utilize the available supply.

While in Modesto Mrs. Votaw made a trip to San Francisco to speak to the women of that city on national politics. Her talk included a discussion of the police force of Washington. WARNS COTTON MEN TO WATER

Irrigation of Crops Imperative Says Government Expert

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 6.—W. B. Camp, U. S. Department of Agriculture representative for San Joaquin valley cotton growers, has warned cotton growers to stop irrigation of their crops. Cotton will respond to irrigation now but as it dries in the season, and if water is withheld from the cotton plants for too long a period, the leaves will drop and the plants will be left fall and are making much vegetative growth is no reason why the growers should cease watering the plants. A statement issued today by the Kern county farm adviser's office said, in part: "It is true that with continued irrigation new soils are continually forming, and some of these will be matured by the time that irrigation with enable many lands to come into production which would not do so without irrigation. Irrigation, however, amounts of water will help the cotton grow in reaching a higher quality. 'Concerning water requirement the cotton plant is not different from most other cultivated plants. If we desire a good crop of fruit from our orchards or vineyards, we must supply the plants with sufficient amounts of water to enable them to mature their fruit. To withhold water usually results in the impairment of growth and imperfect fruit. According to Camp, these arguments on the irrigation of cotton are not merely theory, but they have been substantiated by practical experience. In the Imperial valley, and in the cotton section of Arizona, growers continue irrigation to keep the plants in growing condition all through the season. With these growers, the matter is no longer experiment; with them it is a well-established fact that cotton should be irrigated up to maturity. Camp has just returned from an extensive inspection trip through the cotton fields of the northeastern and southern states as well as the long irrigated cotton fields and the salt and alkali valleys. Mr. Camp reports that in general the cotton in Kern county is far superior to any cotton he saw in other sections of the United States. As a result of his investigations, Mr. Camp is more than ever convinced that soil and climatic conditions of Kern county are ideal for the growing of cotton, especially Pima Egyptian."

BIOLA BANK OPENS Wednesday, September 8th

The First National Bank of Biola will open its doors for a general banking business tomorrow, September 8th, 1920.

The growth of the flourishing community centering at Biola has been hampered by its lack of convenient banking facilities, with the result that a few of its enterprising business men organized this bank, which tomorrow throws its doors open to receive deposits, and transact other business.

An invitation is extended to all to visit the new bank on its birthday.

OFFICERS
Fred Nelson, Pres.
G. H. Weitz, Vice Pres.
Henry Bier, Cashier
DIRECTORS
G. H. Weitz Fred Nelson T. E. Harris W. J. Estep
S. M. Ellis J. M. McDonald George Snyder

$10.00 PRIZE A Ten Dollar Cash Prize will be given to the person guessing nearest amount of first day's deposits. Mail, phone or bring in your guess.

BIOLA TOWN LOTS

The Time—The Place and The Opportunity

These town lots are situated in Biola, which is right in the heart of the raisin belt. Last year 43,000 tons of Thompson raisin grapes were delivered to the packing houses from this locality alone.

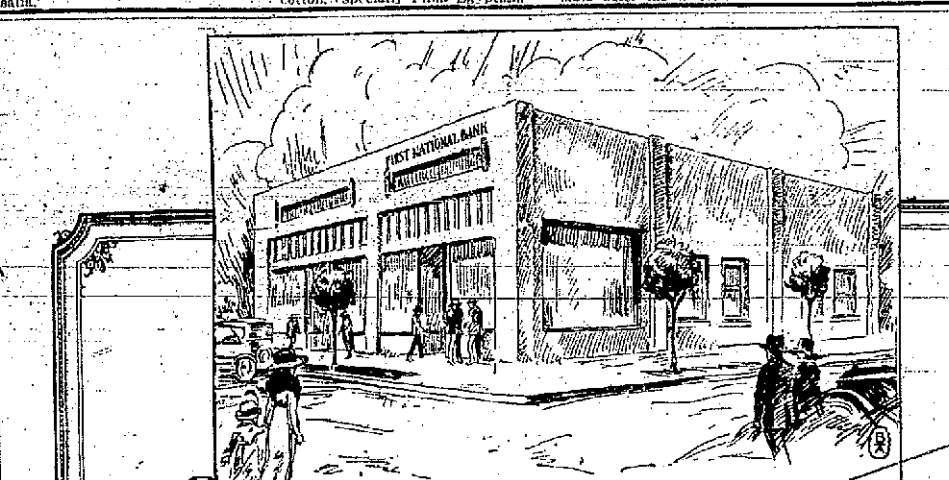

The California Associated Raisin Co.'s plant at Biola makes crop delivery most convenient.

Just think over the names of your acquaintances who have made considerable money buying town lots in surrounding towns and holding them for a raise.

Your opportunity is just as good RIGHT NOW, and RIGHT HERE.

The bank will gladly give you all the information you need.
